Q. Critically analyze the recent amendments made to the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988. Suggest certain measures to improve the road safety in India.

Author’s Suggestions

- Compliance of Section 198 A MVA, 1988
  - Authority or contractor – follow design, standards given by Central govt.

  - Amended MVA, 1988

Steep penalties for violation of road rules → backlash

- Negative reaction + revision by among people + State govt.
  - Eg: Gujarat, West Bengal

- Enforced huge fines
  - But not upgraded road infrastructure
  - No reform of administrative arrangements

Recommend to Centre and States

- Standards of design
- Maintenance of motor vehicles

Necessity of Road infrastructure to meet legal requirements

- Reforms by the State govt → to end corruption
- E-delivery of RTO services → mandatory
- End ‘culture of impunity’ – govt vehicles & VIPs
SC continues its stay on eviction of forest dwellers

The Supreme Court on Thursday continued its stay on the eviction of lakhs of Scheduled Tribes and other traditional forest dwellers whose claims for forest lands rights have been rejected under the Forest Rights Act (FRA) of 2006.

A bench led by Justice Arun Mishra posted the case for hearing on November 26 and said the stay order first issued on February 28 would continue.

"No mercy"
The Bench referred to how resorts and illegal structures have encroached on forest lands and led to the depletion of the green cover. Senior advocate Sanjay Tripathi, appearing for one of the parties, said the focus should be on the lands of forest dwellers who face eviction.

The court said "the mighty and the underserving" who had encroached on forest lands would be shown no mercy.

More than 11 lakh people from the STs and OBCs across 16 states had faced the brunt of the Supreme Court's February 28 eviction order.

Centre's stand
The February 28 eviction order was stayed on February 28 after the Centre moved the Supreme Court to modify the order.

The government had said the eviction order would affect a “large number of families”.
